Bellevue Buildings Damaged by Wind

Many Business Places Damaged—School Window Panes Shattered; Classes Out

People in this end of the Pass thought it was blowing about as hard as possible last Wednesday and Thursday nights, but Bellevue got it so badly that it was hardly blowing at all here in comparison.

The drug store, owned by Idris Haysom, Coupland's store, Kerr's Store and others suffered broken or cracked plate glass windows; 140 panes of glass in the school windows were broken and the roof of the bank was reported to have been lifted. It was a night of terror for Bellevue residents, as they were in jeopardy all night long, fearing buildings would collapse under the severe strain.

In Coleman fences were blown down and an old tree blocked the path up the hill by the tennis courts, a victim of the storm.

Public school classes in Bellevue were cancelled for the day, as the west side of the building was unfit for occupancy after the wholesale smashing of windows. High school classes were moved into the east side. The bank building was rocking like a ship at sea under the wind pressure. The blast which did the big damage occurred at 8.15 a. m. Friday.

Will Wed on Thanksgiving Day

Two of Coleman's well-known young people, Harold Jones and Anna Michalsky, are to be wedded on Thursday at the Catholic Rectory. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Michalsky, residents of many years here, while the bridegroom, son of Mr. Arthur Jones, is proprietor of a garage repair business. Congratulations and good wishes are extended them, and on Saturday a large number of the bride's young lady friends honored her with a shower of miscellaneous gifts at a social in the Catholic hall.

From Old Friends

From Courtenay on Vancouver Island comes a cheerful note from Mr. and Mrs. George Dickson, former Colemanites, together with a renewal subscription to The Journal. George encloses a business card, stating that the Hotel Courtenay, which they took over early this year, offers all the comforts of a home away from home, with splendid salmon and trout fishing in the district, also excellent hunting. So attractive does it appear that their Coleman acquaintances will be tempted to go over to the island and spend their summer holidays enjoying all the good things offered. Tom Lloyd of the Rialto pool room recently received a photograph of the hotel, a comfortable looking building, with George on the lawn blandly smiling. The picture makes you wish you were there among the attractions of the island where they claim they do not know what real winter is, and where even the English skylark sings his morning song.

Coleman Light and Water Co. Extending System E. Coleman

A section of Coleman, not in the incorporated area, including East Coleman, (Bushtown) and a section on Blairmore road, will be served with light and power. A majority of the residents of this area signed a petition asking the company to extend the system, as heretofore coal oil lamps have been the only means of illumination. The area to be served is under Local Improvement District administration, but is part of Coleman school district.

Some years ago this area was subject to frequent fires, until the risk became so bad that some companies refused to write any further insurance in that area, for in addition to accidental fires, it was considered some were the result of carelessness. With the installation of the system the risks will be lessened.

John McDonald of Blairmore "Crosses The Bar"

Well-Known Pioneer Worker of Pass Towns Succumbs to Cancer—Funeral Thursday

A typical "six-foot-three" Nova Scotian, John A. McDonald, of Blairmore, for long years a prominent figure in the Crow's Nest Pass, has "crossed the bar" at the age of 62 years. Hearty, bluff, good natured John's booming voice will be heard no longer. Cancer took him after an illness which, though not confining him to his bed, made heavy inroads during the summer, and he was only three days he was in bed before the end came.

He was game to the last, never quitting or complaining, making the best of conditions and leaving pleasant memories among a large circle of acquaintances of more than 30 years standing throughout the "Crow."

Cape Breton was his birthplace, and he was a rock miner in British Columbia mining towns at Trail, Sandon, Fort Steele, and later Michel and Hillcrest. Before he engaged in mining he sailed the seven seas in a wind-jammer owned by his uncle in Nova Scotia. Many reminiscences would be amusingly related by "Long John."

Always prominent in sports, he competed with local athletes in many contests. Joe Emmerson recalls that though he could hold his own with John in the pole vault and the high jump, John was the victor of them all in the broad jump.

Michael Joyce was one of his early-day friends. He first met him at Michel in 1903, and he recalls that John was a prize-winner in rock drilling contests. He was married 27 years ago to Miss Lily Adam, whose parents were farming near Lundbreck. Five sons and four daughters were born of the marriage, all of whom, with the exception of the eldest son, live in Blairmore.

John was ever to the fore on important occasions, and it is recalled that when Lord and Lady Byng visited the Pass, John was on hand with his Ford car, assuring the vice-regal party that his car would go anywhere that the big cars could go.

After giving up mining, he represented the Sun Life Assurance Co. for some time, and up till his death he was local dealer for the Singer Sewing Machine Co., and he also held the office of sheriff's bailiff. Intimate friends state that it was a bitter experience for John to turn over his badge of office when sickness prevented his carrying on further duty. He felt that was the hardest blow of all.

A brother lives in Vancouver. The funeral will be held in Blairmore on Thursday afternoon, when a man who was never known to speak ill of others will be laid to his rest amid the mountains in which over half his lifetime had been spent.

Miners Organize Death Benefit Society

Members of the Miners' Union balloted Tuesday on the question, "are you in favor of forming a Death Benefit Society," resulting in 499 voting for, 119 against, with 10 spoiled ballots.

As a result the union has set aside a fund of $800 from which will be drawn the funeral expenses totaling $150, of any member or his wife. The union has nothing to do with the funeral expenses of any children of a union member, states secretary Stigler, thus correcting some erroneous reports that the family was also included in the Death Benefit Society. As the fund is drawn from due to a death each union member will be assessed a certain amount so that the fund will be brought to $800, which will be a stationary figure.

The society will not hold itself responsible for the funeral expenses of the wife of a member who resides outside Coleman School district.

In The Realm of Sport

Jimmy Joyce received a letter last week from Stew Adams, player-manager of the Calgary Tigers, enroute in the Pacific coast professional hockey league, asking him to report at the hockey farm sponsored by Adams at Calgary for the purpose of finding amateur talent to strengthen his professional team. The practices start in Calgary on Monday next and Joyce has voiced his intention of going up to try out with the professionals and amateurs who will be on hand to try and gain a place on the team.

Duke Scodellera failed to make the grade at Lester Patrick's hockey camp last week. What is Patrick's loss is Coleman's gain.

Nick Wansie, former Coleman hockey idol in 1925, will in all likelihood strut his stuff for Rochester, entrant in the International hockey league, this winter. Nick was expected to report for training at the hockey camp this week.

Poppies for Remembrance Day

Poppy Day To Aid Disabled Veterans. Help by Wearing a Poppy on Nov. 11.

Poppies will be sold on Saturday Nov. 9, in aid of disabled war veterans. For several years the Girl Guides in Coleman have undertaken this good work, prior to which the Scouts sold poppies. In honor of Remembrance Day, formerly known as Armistice Day, poppies and wreaths, made in Vetrach shops by disabled soldiers, are sold through Canada. Coleman should contribute liberally towards this worthy cause, and further details will be available next week, concerning the selling campaign in Coleman.

The following, from an address by L. W. Brockington, former city solicitor of Calgary, is very appropriate:

"We can hear already the still sad music of humanity swelling into one hymn of praise. Time, which has dimmed our grief, has brightened the hope that springs from their glory. Shall we not in memory of these men and women who dedicated themselves to the cause of love and understanding amongst the nations of mankind strive to maintain the principles for which they died and by which we live and, above all, to carry 'Ever in our right hands gentle peace to silence envious tongues.' By doing so we shall not break the faith with them that died."

There have been times when our country has been so sorely as to encourage crime through mal-nutrition and bad example, but for the most part goodness, like happiness, does not depend on possessions.

Recreation A Vital Necessity

Ever since some authority discovered and told the world that every man should have a hobby, the dictum has been reiterated at intervals by later authorities with varying degrees of emphasis and sometimes by those who are interested in promoting some form of amusement or recreation.

Whether uttered, however, with or without an ulterior motive the assertion is one which has a sound foundation in psychology and human experience. It is first cousin and as well founded as that more popularly known saying: "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy."

While a hobby or recreation is a valuable adjunct to work for man at all periods of his march from the cradle to the grave, in at least two stages of his progress, in youth and in old age, it is an absolute essential if he is to achieve the goal of life-happiness.

The word recreation itself gives a clue to the reason. Recreation, the making over again of the individual as he seeks relaxation from the "trivial round and common task" means what it indicates.

Unless a man is content to be a dull clod, he must refresh and re-create himself by seeking relaxation in some pursuit which, for the time, will lift him above the cares and worries incidental to earning his daily bread and providing for the needs of those dependent upon him. He needs some interest, which will infuse rest into aching limbs or brush away the cobwebs from the brain.

In youth's his diverse interest may take the form of athletics, mechanical activity and with a minority, some more sedentary type of relaxation, but no matter what form it may take, it is essential to the development of a sound, robust citizenship, that youth should be allowed time for recreation. The lad or young man without a hobby is apt to become morbid and unbalanced.

Youth is normally a period of superabundant energy and this overflowing vitality should be allowed to express itself in forms of healthy recreation, and if it can be used as a step ladder to a life vocation, it is that much more to the good.

Many a youth has "found" himself in the pursuit of a hobby. History is full of stories of boys and young men who have made good in later life because they have been allowed to follow their bent and of many more who have done so despite overwhelming obstacles and discouragements. By all means encourage the young man to take up some interest, apart from his daily work and chores.

And if a hobby is essential to youth it is vital to old age. There is no more pitiful sight than the old man whose physical powers have waned and who has no interest in life or in living. Such a man is a burden to himself and an incubus to his associates. He is misery personified and makes miserable those with whom he comes in daily contact.

But the old man who has built up an interest secondary to the life work which he pursued in his prime is spared these pains and penalties of advancing years. As he becomes physically enfeebled he is able to turn his hand and his mind to a pursuit which daily grows in fascination, because it can be taken for granted, that the hobby which he has developed is something which he likes and in which, therefore, he can excel. Such a pursuit will go far towards prolonging life itself and will certainly give zest to the declining years. Gloom will give way to sunshine and contentment will displace moroseness.

But it is too late for the aged to develop a hobby after they have reached the sere and yellow. The old adage, "You can't teach an old dog new tricks" is applicable to humanity. There may be exceptions but that is the rule. That is one of the reasons why, even during the crowded years of prime and middle life, a recreation is not only advisable but essential. It is an insurance policy for a contented and interesting old age.

Moreover the man who diversifies his interests beyond his life's vocation, even during the period when life is at the full, is more likely to have an old age in which to further develop his hobby. It need not necessarily be something apart from his daily work. It may well be something related to it, in which event its pursuit will yield additional interest and perhaps more tangible dividends in the task of making a living.

Building Up Air Force

Chinese Dancers Are Willing To Help Aviation League

Dancers are to do their bit in helping China get together a strong air force. This is a result of a request by the China Aviation League to the proprietors of Chinese dance halls in Shanghai for a charge of five cents on every dollar earned in their establishments to go towards a fund for the purchase of airplanes. The dance hall owners will pass the five cents charge on to their customers. The proposal has been accepted by 20 dance halls and others are expected to notify the Aviation League of the compliance before many dance-nights have passed.

First Bicycle In Bavaria

Built In 1864 It Is Made Entirely Of Wood

Bavaria's first bicycle, built by the famous German sports instructor, Johann Friederich Trefz, has been acquired by the Deutsches Museum at Munich. The bicycle is made entirely of wood, and was designed and built by Trefz in 1864. Pesant, when they first saw him pedalling the wooden machine along the road around Munich, shouted "witch-dorcher" and often threw stones and cursed themselves. Trefz only managed to overcome Bavarian prejudice after he had built an indoor bicycling hall in Stuttgart to "introduce Germans to the bicycle."

Still In The Lead

No Book So Widely Read As The Bible

The Bible of the present generation is the outcome of centuries of research and patient effort. It contains 66 books in one, covering history, psalms, prophecy, romance, law, liturgy, biography, and letters delivered as correspondence. Men like King George read a part of it every day for guidance and encouragement in their tasks; Sun Yat Sen, Chinese follower of Confucius, Mahatma Gandhi the Hindu, and Kawaga of Japan, pored over it and were moved to their destinies by its teaching. It is read in palaces and in mud huts. Each year the Bible societies of the world send out 25,000,000 copies in hundreds of languages. In spite of supposed religious indifference it is the most read book in the world.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

Now Science Explains Why So Many People Past 40 Feel That They're Slipping Losing Their "Grip" on Things

Many people "round 40" think they're "growing old." They feel tired a lot more, "weak." Have headaches, dizziness, stomach upsets.

Well, scientists say the cause of all this, in a great many cases, is simply an acid condition of the stomach.

All you have to do is to neutralize the excess stomach acidity. When you have one of these acid stomach upsets, take Phillips' Milk of Magnesia after meals and before going to bed. That's all!

Try this. Soon you'll feel like another person! Take either the familiar liquid "PHILLIPS" or the convenient, new Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets. Made in Canada.

Mounted Section Necessary

Separate Division Of R.C.M.P. Is Being Considered

The old order changeth. The Mounted Police are considering forming a mounted section in the force, according to the annual report released at Regina headquarters. "If present plans are advanced to completion," the report states, "the subjects of equitation, mounted drill and stable management will be undertaken by those assigned to the mounted section only."

The report states difficulty is experienced in completing the training of some recruits within the prescribed period of six months when intensive training in equitation is included in the syllabus.

So some recruits may be assigned to mounted duty only, while others will take instruction in more modern and rapid means of travel.

Despite reports that the force was slowly but surely going away with horses, Major-General Sir James H. MacBrien, commissioner, states in the report that "there is no intention whatever of dispensing altogether with the mounted man. A well trained mounted unit of sufficient number is invaluable to any force which may have to deal with unruly crowds."

At the present time, the report states, the force throughout the Dominion has 254 saddle horses and 19 team horses, and of these, 88 saddle horses and 13 team horses are located in Saskatchewan.

Other means of land transport owned by the Mounted Police are 411 passenger cars; 34 motorcycles; 19 motor trucks; three railway gas cars and 413 sleigh dogs.

Of that number, there are 96 motor cars, four motor trucks and 28 dogs stationed in Saskatchewan.

The force also operates 11 cruisers and eight patrol boats in preventive services on the eastern and western coasts.

Might Spoil Their Appearance

Army Troopers Prefer Jail To Having Hair Cut

Troopers of the Czechoslovakian army went on strike recently to escape the great peril of having their hair cut. About 40 of the men stationed at Olomouc flatly refused to obey their commanding officer when he ordered them to report to the barbers for a trimming. They clung to their determination not to have their hair cut and were sent to cell. Their reason, they said, was that they were about to be discharged from the army and would have to look for work. Everyone knows that a man in appearance counts for a lot in getting a job, they pleaded, but who can look really smart with one's hair cut like a convict's?

Experiment A Success

British Eggs Despatched By Air Hatched In Australia

An experiment in sending British eggs by air mail to Australia, to be hatched by Australian hens has proved a great success, as two sturdy Rhode Island chicks hitherto unknown in Australia prove. Mr. F. P. Finney, assistant secretary of the Poultry Club of New South Wales, received two settings of Rhode Island Red eggs by air mail. They were despatched fifteen days earlier by Lord Greyhound from his farm at Stanbridge Earls, Ramsey (Hampshire). The two chicks hatched out 23 days after receipt.

Idea For Poultrymen

Chickens May Be Tattooed With Brand Of Owner

Chickens, tattooed on the wing, may soon become the present-day counterparts the flank-branded cattle and horses of the old west, and for the same reason—to find thieves. A system of identification, endorsed by the Northeastern Poultry Producers' Association is based on needle-punctures made in the skin-veins of chickens' legs and then filled with indelible ink. Each poultry-raiser has his own "brand," which is registered, and entered in identification books distributed to law-enforcement agencies.

The sixth convention of the Canadian Legion will be held early next year at Vancouver, a communication from Dominion headquarters of that organization said. ### Must Have Good Method

Tokio Claims To Know Number Of Flies Swatted

In Tokio they have a way of counting the flies they swat. You have the word of Norimi Iguchi, health prevention chief, that exactly 106,124 flies were swatted in Tokio in two days. He does not say whether he swatted them then or not. He explains that the slain flies were packed in 175 large sacks. The champion fly-catcher was a fish merchant, who felled 93,000 with deadly accuracy.

FAMOUS MINERAL SALTS BROUGHT TO YOU

Carlsbad, Vichy and other resorts in Europe are famous for their mineral springs. Canada, too, has its Carlsbad, for Little Manitou Lake in Saskatchewan is an amazing lake—a lake of wondrous virtue—yielding medicinal salts of potent curative properties.

These powerful health-giving salts are extracted from the waters of the lake, cleaned and prepared, with the addition of iodine, by experts chemists. They are then available to you as "Saskasal"—a very fitting name for these medicinal Salt of Saskatchewan. Saskasal is a non-effervescent salt highly recommended in all ailments arising from over-acidity of the blood. If you suffer from Rheumatism, Neuritis, Mild Stomach Disorders, Kidney and Liver troubles, Impure Blood, Skin Eruptions and Constipation, a short course of Saskasal will soon put you in the chorus singing its praises. ## Earthquake Shocks Kill Two And Injure Scores In Montana

Helena, Mont.—Snow and increasing cold harassed this 'quake-ridden city as jarring earth tremors, which have killed two persons and injured scores, continued for the eighth successive day. It was feared there might be widespread suffering should temperatures continue to fall.

Hundreds of persons passed the night in their motor cars, fearing to remain in their homes.

The exodus of residents began late Saturday to ranches, resorts and the comparative safety of valley and mountain roads.

Main street, one of Montana's brightest Saturday night spots, was dark for the first time in years.

Concern was greatest for about 400 refugees in a tent city at Camp Cooney, the National Guard reservation northeast of Helena. The tents are not equipped with stoves, and there are no large quarters to which the victims might be moved.

The earth quivered intermittently Sunday, but the shocks seemed appreciably lighter.

Heavy snow flakes that fell during the afternoon threatened discomfort to another group—those whose chimneys and heating plants were wrecked Friday night by the heaviest of the 248 earth shocks recorded since Oct. 12.

The property damage was variously estimated from $1,500,000 to $2,500,000.

From about 9 to 11 o'clock M.S.T. Saturday night the earth was fairly quiet. At the latter hour, however, a heavy quivering was recorded. Four hours of quiet ensued. Then from 2 to 4 a.m. the shocks recurred.

None of these shocks approached in destructive power the Friday night convulsions which twisted the town and harassed its populace.

Between 9:45 p.m. Friday, the time of the severest 'quake, and tonight Saturday night, 156 earth tremors had been recorded. The big shocks were the 60th of a series which had begun about a week before.

Only a scattered handful of business structures were rendered beyond repair, but the cumulative total of cracked walls and fallen brick work led Oscar Bearson, city engineer, to estimate property losses above $2,000,000.

Bearson said about 150 homes would be vacated temporarily for further inspection, emphasizing that this figure likely would be greatly reduced as examination progressed.

As to the cause of the 'quakes, Professor Perry Byrre of Berkeley, Calif., said it was the general story of "mountain building" in the bowels of the earth.

All places of public gathering in Helena were ordered closed until further notice. The order applied to theatres, churches, schools, libraries, dance halls, bar parlors—every place where the public might congregate under a roof.

A new $500,000 high school building showed great gaps in the walls of a wing. Sections of these walls, running from corner to corner and 10 to 30 feet in depth, had fallen. The roof sagged over the bulged walls, and the wooden interior supports were shown, twisted and bent in the gaps.

Enforcement Of Act Delayed

Premier Aberhart Gives Out Statement Regarding Health Insurance Edmonston.—State health insurance will not be brought into effect for some time, it was announced by Premier Aberhart. The act, passed at the last session of the legislature, will stand over until payments of health dividends begin.

"One reason for not taking action now is that Social Credit means health benefits for the people," the premier said.

One objection was that under state health insurance there would be direct levies on people living in a unit organized under the plan.

As a result it is felt, he said, that the matter should stand over until Social Credit is brought into operation, when there would be automatic health benefits for the people.

Killed In Air Crash

Son Of Admiral Sir William Fisher Loses Life In Plane Accident London.—Pilot Officer Nevill Fisher, 21, the son of Admiral Sir William Fisher, commander-in-chief of the Mediterranean fleet, was killed in an air crash at Bruncewell, Lincolnshire.

The plane went into a tailspin while the flyer was stunting. Fisher jumped too late and his parachute did not open.

Ban Is Modified

Toronto.—Horn tooting between 11 p.m. and 7 a.m. must cease in Toronto "except when required to do so by law," it has been ruled by city council. The clause making exception for law requirements was inserted as an amendment before the bill was passed by the civic legislators.

Tons Of Munitions Hurried Forward To Assist Ethiopian Army

Zeila, British Somaliland.—Ethiopian commanders and their staffs are working at high tension day and night to complete plans to oppose invasion on a battleground of their own choosing, according to reports reaching here.

Cheered by Somali tribesmen, trucks carrying new rifles and cartridges for the Ethiopian army are passing daily through British Somaliland, en route to Djijiga and Harar. More than 100,000 tons of munitions, shipped across the Red sea from Aden and landed by British vessels at Berbera, have been delivered safely across the frontier since Britain lifted the arms embargo against Ethiopia.

Had dry weather enabled Italian tanks to make a dash through the desert, this route from the coast would have been cut off and the emperor's costly purchases would have been useless. But continued rains have delayed the tanks and held up the Italian troops.

Rifles have been redistributed by the mule load to troops scattered in the highlands, where scenes of the wildest fighting followed their receipt. Hardy hill fighters who never saw a modern weapon before, acknowledge the precious gifts with kisses and go off waving them in the air.

Plan Welcome For Lord Tweedsmuir

Official Ceremony At Quebec On November 2

Ottawa.—The official ceremony of welcome to Canada will be extended to Lord Tweedsmuir at Quebec on Nov. 2 on his arrival on the Duchess of Richmond. It was announced. The ceremony at the ancient capital will include the swearing in of the new governor-general.

Suggestion was made the new Liberal cabinet of Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, victorious at the polls, may be sworn in here by the administrator, Sir Lyman P. Duff, in the interim. While no official intimation was available, this was thought as a likelihood.

The usual course will be followed with the prime minister of the day by his ministers journeying to Quebec to welcome the new incumbent of Rideau Hall. Mr. King, with his colleagues, welcomed Lord Willington when he arrived at Quebec in 1926. Mr. Bennett and his ministers went to Halifax to greet Lord Beesborough on his arrival in 1931.

May Try State Medicine

Envisaged For Manitoba By Minister Of Health

Winnipeg.—State medicine throughout Manitoba, if an experiment about to be made in a small area proves successful, was envisaged here by Hon. I. B. Griffiths, provincial minister of health and public welfare.

Preparations now were being made by the government to establish a unit area in which a form of state medicine will be tried out, he said. The ultimate scheme would involve free medical, hospital and drug service to individuals, the cost to be borne "probably by provincial and municipal governments out of taxes."

In the unit area contemplated, said Mr. Griffiths, there would be no change in the present system except that doctors, druggists and hospitals would not send bills to patients. Payment would be taken care of from a common fund provided by the municipal and provincial governments.

Weather Held Up Ballot Box

Voters In Northern Mining Camp Deprived Of Poll

Ottawa.—Election at the mining camp of Chibougamau in the new constituency of Chapleau, Que., deprived of a poll on election day because unfavorable weather prevented the ballot box from being flown in, will not be afforded an opportunity of exercising their franchise later, the chief electoral officer stated here.

Similar situations have arisen in previous elections where unforeseen difficulties prevented a ballot box reaching a poll in an isolated district, and the principle was followed that ballots could not be cast after election day. A total of 129 voters are located at the northern mining camp.

Wedding Will Be Broadcast

Study Air Currents

Balloons Sail Into Stratosphere To Collect Valuable Information Calgary.—Every night at 6 during last week a balloon was released at Calgary airport to sail into the stratosphere and collect valuable information concerning air currents and temperature.

The experiment, carried out by C. H. Bromley of the Calgary meteorological bureau, are in conjunction with Dominion-wide work under the supervision of John Patterson, chief of the Dominion meteorological bureau at Toronto.

Three balloons were released in Calgary last March when the experiments began and another trio were sent out on fact-finding missions in June. Four were found, one going as far east as the Alberta-Saskatchewan boundary.

When the balloon bursts in the stratosphere, the double kite carries the instruments safely to the ground. The aluminum case is fixed between the kites and never touches the ground. Directions are attached to the kites asking that they be forwarded to the meteorological office at Toronto where a reward will be paid for their return.

Series Of Earthquakes

Starts New River Running Near Afghanistan Border Moscow.—A new series of earthquake shocks in the district of Tadzhikistan, near the Afghan border, destroyed several villages and started a new river running from the mountains, said dispatches.

In all, there have been three series of 'quakes in the region, beginning October 8. The total dead was placed at 107 after the first two series and apparently the death toll was not great in the third disaster.

Uniform Text Books

Winnipeg.—Possibility of a joint education board being set up for the prairie provinces, with the objective of having uniform text books in the west, will be explored by the Manitoba department of education. Departments of education in the other provinces will be asked for their views.

Canadian Legion Anniversary

Celebration In November By Branches Throughout Dominion

Ottawa.—Arrangements are well advanced among branches throughout Canada for the celebration next month of the decennial anniversary of the founding of the Canadian Legion, J. R. Bowler, general secretary, announced.

In connection with the birthday celebrations General Alex Ross, Dominion president of the legion, will undertake a tour of the country. He will be present at the Alberta provincial convention at Medicine Hat this month and will be in Winnipeg for the Armistice Day ceremonies, Nov. 11. Following that the general will tour Ontario, winding up in Ottawa on Nov. 25, when a public function celebrating the anniversary will be held.

Legion officials are hopeful the governor-general designate, Lord Tweedsmuir, may be able to attend.

Air Base Established

Over Thousand British Planes Are Now In Egypt

Alexandria, Egypt.—Military authorities have agreed the establishment of fighting aeroplanes, 16 miles from here, would be the real British defence base in the event of trouble in the Mediterranean. This air base, behind the historic Bay of Abukis, where Admiral Nelson sealed the fate of Napoleon's adventure in Egypt, is the greatest in the near east and one of the most alert in the world.

Authorities estimate more than 1,200 royal air force planes are here, but all private observers can see is a barbed wire fence along a road which bisects a great field—that, and numerous hangars.

No Voluntary Wheat Pools To Be Operated This Year

Winnipeg.—With the long-sought, Dominion wheat board in actual operation, no voluntary wheat pools will be operated by the Manitoba Pool Elevators, Limited, this year, it was disclosed in the report of directors accepted at the annual meeting of the pool delegates.

Similar action on dropping voluntary pools in favor of marketing by the Dominion wheat board will be taken by the Saskatchewan and Alberta wheat pools when their annual meetings are held shortly, said L. C. Brouillette, chairman of the central selling agency.

Increased handlings of wheat, increased membership and reduction of Rome.—Italy let it be known officially that "all doors are not shut" to peaceful settlement of her differences with Great Britain over the Ethiopian war.

This terse hint, in the form of an official communique, was dropped suddenly into the midst of peace talks which, informed sources said, were getting down to "bed rock" in an attempt to halt the conflict in Africa.

"Conversations in normal diplomatic channels are proceeding between Paris and Rome and Paris and London," said the communique. "There is nothing specific at the moment, but the fact the conversations are proceeding shows all doors are not shut."

Simultaneously, a government spokesman conceded that a long conversation between Sir Eric Drummond, the British ambassador, and Premier Mussolini likely had served to ease the tension.

(An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Rome said it was rumored the conversations had resulted in an agreement whereby some of Great Britain's additional warships in the Mediterranean would be replaced by French vessels for reduction of Italian troops in Libya.)

The terse official communique was regarded in Rome generally as an indication the crisis in Anglo-Italian relations had passed.

Italians were gratified to learn Great Britain indicated to Premier Laval the British government did not contemplate application of sanctions single-handedly against Italy, but would stick to collective action with other members of the league.

Want Compensation

Madrid.—Reliable reports from Geneva said Spain probably will seek some sort of commercial compensation if Spanish trade suffers because of economic sanctions against Italy.

GREEK MONARCHY SWIFTLY RESTORED BY MILITARY COUP

In a swift Royalist coup d'etat, Greece rejected her 11-year-old republic and restored the monarchy. It is understood that King George II. will wait till he hears the result of the nationwide plebiscite which takes place on November 3rd before he returns to Athens. Above, left, is General George Kondylis, Royalist leader, who seized the reins of government in a swift and bloodless stroke. Centre is a picture of part of the harbor at Athens, while inset is a recent picture of the George, who, after eleven years exile in London was acclaimed King by the Greek National Assembly.

indebtedness of the pool to the Manitoba government were disclosed in reports to the 150 delegates from all parts of Manitoba. Payments to the government totalled $177,722.42 and met the cost instalment in full. An operating surplus of $308,524.15 was reported.

Termination of the voluntary pools because of establishment of the Dominion wheat board was in line with the policy of the pool organizations, it was announced. The pool elevators will handle the grain and the marketing will be done by the Dominion wheat board.

The change was anticipated in agitation for a Dominion wheat board and the Manitoba pool delegates passed a resolution asking that the board extend its operations "to handle coarse grains and to set a minimum price which approximates the cost of production." Such action "can be taken by the board if approved by the governor-general-in-council."

Pool members will continue to have the alternative of delivering their wheat to pool elevators and either accepting the street price when delivery is made or selling through the board. The board set a minimum price of 87½ cents a bushel No. 1 Northern, Fort William basis, and further payments will be made to growers if earnings of the board warrant them.

With due instalments paid to the Manitoba government, indebtedness of the pool to the government as a result of re-financing four years ago, now stands at $1,639,363.87. Payments made this year were $524,601.16 on interest and $95,262.26 on principal. "The liability of the Manitoba Pool Elevators to the province will be liquidated in full," said the directors' report.

Interest on membership of 864 brought the total membership to 10,142, the report said. Wheat handled increased from 10,034,359 in the crop year 1934-35 to 10,908,637 in the crop year 1935-36. After taking care of all expenses, a net operating surplus of $308,524.15 was shown from which the payments to the Manitoba government were deducted along with other payments to working capital, etc.

REMEMBRANCE DAY
recalls "Madoiselle from Armentieres," plum and apple jam, rum rations, mud and old comrades. The army which gathers no recruits becomes smaller each year, but remembrance of war torn years, bereavements and blighted hopes rise to the surface as the anniversary of Armistice rolls around. Coleman has men of various nationalities who fought for Canada; some who went from here lie "over there." Patriotic citizens regard remembrance Day with reverence. The annual service held under Legion auspices they attend not to glorify war, but to bow with humility and reverence in honor of those who gave life itself for an ideal. The filled on Monday, Nov. 11.

THE JOURNAL SEEKS
the co-operation of its readers in paying their sub-constant aim is to improve the paper and its value to the community. New equipment is required to give more speedy and complete service, and it requires money. The individual subscription may not be much, but in the total is a considerable factor in the year's business. The small profit we may have made in eight years of business here, and there have been some very slim years, has gone back into the business to make improvements in the paper, and it falls far short of our ideal. We trust our readers will extend the necessary co-operation and thereby help in part to attain our objective.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

AN editor, no less than a preacher, is expected to say something at least once a week, whether it be good bad or indifferent. Occasionally he is hard put to it to dig up something of real interest. He scans the horizon for inspiration, but it is as bare as Mother Hubbard's cupboard sometimes. Were we to consult the Dictionary of Facts or the best seller of all, the Bible, we could possibly concoct a yarn that might appeal to some and be frowned on by others. Some famous men have always counselled others to read the Bible, but there was no guarantee they themselves were doing it.

In younger days the writer made a resolve to read it through, but after a few chapters of Genesis had been digested by the aid of midnight oil, we gave it up as being rather dry, and turned to lighter fiction. Of course, if we had the vivid imagination of Premier Aberhart, we would read great adventures into the Scriptures; battles of Armageddon, creatures with wondrous horns and other terrifying things; the Rapture, and other things as thrilling as the dime novel the small boys love to read. Nevertheless, it remains the best seller of all time.

OUR MIND must be too prosaic. Occasionally we do get fired with imagination, but these flashes come mostly in dreams, which fade with the rapidity of the morning mists before the rising sun. The biggest flight of fancy we had was imagining we were on a carpet similar to that on which Douglas Fairbanks flew over Bagdad, or some other impossible thing. But it is surprising the things you dream of, indicating there must be a sub-conscious imagination of the wildest type lying dormant. We have dreamed of having our head lopped off by one of those double edged swords, of falling over precipices and other terrifying things. In fact we have occasionally dreamed of finding a lot of money; not in S. C. dividends, but in real money. Doubtless many have had a similar dream and experienced the same momentary exhilaration till they woke up and found it only a dream.

DESPITE the many cares of government, Premier Aberhart continues to take the leading part in the interesting Sunday afternoon broadcasts of the Prophetic Bible Institute in Calgary. His enthusiasm and devotion to his self-appointed task of interpreting the Bible to thousands of radio listeners is no less keen than his desire to bring into effect his idealistic program of Social Credit; possibly his Bible Institute is closer to his heart than a political life of controversy and strategy. He is the central figure, the star of the firmament to his followers, his aggressive and dynamic energy putting his governmental ministers in the shade.

THERE is every indication that it will be a one-man government with Aberhart at the head, and so dominant is his leadership that one recalls the words of a widely-known politician of former days: "After me, the deluge." For without Aberhart, is there anyone with sufficient knowledge of his policy or his ability to carry on the new gospel of Social Credit? Time alone will tell! The basis of Social Credit is practical Christianity, taught by Christ nearly 2,000 years ago. Always it has to combat greed, selfish ambition and individualism, so widely rampant in all ages, the constant aim being to improve the lot of man.

Andy Good, who runs the hotel at Crows Nest, has an interesting collection of animals, all natives of the Rockies. It includes a splendid black bear, four varieties of owls, a large eagle, a wild duck and a coyote. He also has some fine trophies of the hunt. One sheep's head is a particularly fine specimen worth $250. Each horn is 18 inches in circumference at the base, and each is 34 inches long from base to tip.

Did you read about that barber who has been saving newspaper clippings concerning Lindbergh ever since the famous Atlantic hop? He now hopes to get Lindy to autograph the collection. That hobby sounds more interesting than stamp collecting.

Ex service men in Canada note with interest that Grant McNeil, first Dominion secretary of the Great War Veterans Association, now the Canadian Legion, was elected in North Vancouver. He did good work for returned soldiers in charging the Pension Board deprived veterans of their rights, his charges being substantiated by a royal commission.

An energetic Social Credit candidate in West Edmonton promised dividends by Christmas. He failed to achieve the desired result of winning the seat. Instead, Premier Aberhart re-affirmed that it would be 18 months at least before dividends would be paid. There are many things to be cleared up in meantime, the premier stated.

Fifteen representatives of Chambers of Commerce from places in California, Nevada, Idaho and Montana met in Fernie to confer with the Fernie Board of Trade concerning U.S. 93 Highway. The objective is to have the connecting highway improved by hard surfacing, which it is claimed would greatly increase the tourist traffic through the Crows Nest Pass.

The Blairmore Exchange, of which W. L. Evans is proprietor, carried a display advertisement in last week's issue of The Enterprise headed: "The Local Merchant Deserves a Square Deal." He states that people in town are buying goods at wholesale prices through an official of a local concern, which is not in fairness to the local merchant, who pays taxes and all other expenses incidental to operating a retail business.

Gerry McGeer of Vancouver, and a defeated candidate in the Federal election, made a bad break in the city. Asked where he was during the war, he said he didn't have to join the army to get a medal ticket. Many in B.C. attribute his defeat to such a thoughtless remark, for it lost him votes of ex service men and relatives of those who went overseas because they believed it a national duty. It was a slur on Canada's citizen soldiers which cost him dearly, and it will be long remembered.

He taken by Mr. Shevle of Bellevue. His messages have been appreciated and it is hoped a good congregation will be out to hear him.

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

Robert W. Babson, statistician and economist, predicts the United States will be out of the depression in six months and headed for prosperity.

Winnipeg's death rate has been cut almost in half in the past 25 years, health department figures show. In 1910, the rate was 13.6 per thousand population. Last year it was 7.6.

At two mass meetings in Kingston, Jamaica, "congratulations" were extended to Great Britain for her stand against Italy before the League of Nations.

Sixteen persons were killed in Moscow when an eight-story building collapsed during construction. The number of injured was not immediately known. A building on the same site collapsed in 1913.

Jackie Cooper of Jasper Park, Alta., riding "Stamp" to victory, captured first prize in the cowboy's rodeo at the 10th annual world's championship rodeo at Madison Square Garden, New York.

A finding that the Mexican government is "seeking the abolition of religion" is contained in a report of a deputation sent to that country last summer by the American committee on religious rights and minorities.

A deed of gift disclosed that former U.S. Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon has given more than $10,000,000 to be used for a building and site for a national art gallery in Washington.

J. Grove Smith, Dominion fire commissioner, told a service club fire departments in various Canadian cities need $15,000,000 worth of new equipment to fill replacements and increases postponed during the depression.

Luxurious Rooms For Passengers On Denmark's New Freighter

The motorship Canada, newest and finest ship of the Danish East Asiatic Line's fleet, arrived recently on her maiden voyage from Europe to Port of Vancouver.

Captain C. Knudsen, well-known in the port, formerly master of the company's Amerika, commands the new Canada.

Canada showed the port of the latest in modern ship architecture, with refinements that have been inspired by travel competition.

She is an up-to-the-minute freighter, with refrigerator space, in addition to regular cargo space, for 75,000 boxes of fresh fruits.

But it is her luxurious passenger accommodation for 55 passengers which will attract the attention of landmen. Beauty and convenience are allies aboard Canada.

Appointments include a large dining room, which seats all passengers, luxurious social rooms which include a smoking saloon, ladies lounge, dance foyer, cocktail bar, children's dining room, and a built-in swimming pool—the first on any ship plying between the Pacific coast and Europe direct.

In the smoking saloon are paintings by Riberhold of Denmark's most-famous scenic attractions. In the dining room is a painting of Fredensborg Castle by Axel Johansen.

All rooms on the new ship are air-conditioned, all are outside, and equipped with standard beds. Seventeen of the 26 double staterooms have private baths. There are five single rooms.

Energy Of Sea Will Propel New German Liner

Resembling a ferocious monster of the deep, an ocean liner is being designed in Germany to make use of the sea's unlimited energy as a propelling medium.

The ship will have an opening in its bow that will give it the appearance of a giant whale swimming over the water with its jaws ready to devour anything in its path. This opening will gather up the ocean waves and pass them through the ship. The water will be ejected by means of spouts along the sides of the liner. The water, forced out under pressure, is expected to drive the ship forward at great speed. As a result the expense of operating a liner is expected to be reduced, says "Modern Mechanic."

Within the mouth of the ship will be an observation platform and a row of windows, through which passengers may watch the waves surging into the hold. The unusual liner will be streamlined to increase its speed.

R. J. May, an engineer of Pirna, Germany, conceived the idea for the novel ship. He plans to install a large electric pump at the rear of the liner's mouth. This will draw up the water and force it under great pressure through pipes to the spouts along the sides. The electric motor driving the fan will be powered by a Diesel engine.

May plans to build a model which will be tested on the Elbe river near Dresden, capital of Saxony. If tests prove successful, the engineer will seek to interest steamship companies in his project.

Unlike the ordinary liner which has propellers at the stern only, May's ship will have nine points of propulsion. These are the nine rudders located at the sides and stern.

Board Paid By Criminals

Michigan Will Collect From Convicts Able To Pay

Honest taxpayers of Michigan no longer are required to pay all the upkeep of convicted criminals. At its last session, the State Legislature enacted a law providing that, if they are financially able, convicts must pay to the State the cost of keeping them under lock and key.

The law is modeled on the statutes in effect in several States, including Michigan and New York, under which inmates of asylums for the insane are required when able, to pay for their maintenance.

Under Michigan's new law, the State may seek to reimburse itself for the cost of either old or new inmates. It is provided that proceedings "may be begun at any time after admittance" to penal institutions, and collections may be made over the entire period of confinement.—Literary Digest.

Record In Freak Writing

Man Pens 1,741 Words On Twenty-Five-Cent Piece

A new record in freak writing has been set up by a 70-year-old saddler, William Alberty of Horsham, England. Within a circle covered by a 25-cent piece he has written with pen and ink a rhyme history of Horsham consisting of 7,770 letters in 1,741 words.

He has put eight pages of poetry outlining the town's history in Saxon and Norman times into that circle. By writing Horsham's history under the microscope he has proved himself a genius in penmanship.

This example of concentrated history, viewed by the naked eye, looks something like a greasy thumb-print, but with a powerful lens one can read it.

Mr. MacNutt named his composition "Take Me To A Green Isle." Mrs. Lillian J. Edwards, Winnipeg, chairman of the musical committee of the chapter, informed Mr. MacNutt the song would be used in fall concert work in Winnipeg.

The highest, death rate in the world according to statistics just published came from Skopje, a town in Southern Yugoslavia. ## Term Was Extended

Given Longer Sentence

That a model prisoner who had defended a warder in Kobe prison has been given a longer sentence as a result, has just been reported from Kobe, Japan. The report says that two months ago a warder who reproached a prisoner for talking, was attacked by the prisoner. The warder was wounded, but the action was averted by Tansuichi Joryo, who intervened in the warder's behalf. Later three other prisoners attacked Joryo in one of the prison corridors for his championship of the warder. Joryo defended himself against the three with a pair of scissors he had been using for hand making. He stabbed one in the stomach and the two others in the arm. For this he was given an extra sentence of six months.

BELSHAZZAR'S FEAST

Golden text: Wine is a mocker, strong drink a brawler; and whosoever is drunk thereby is not wise. Proverbs 20:1.

Lesson: Daniel 5:1-31.

Devotional reading: Psalm 1.

Explanations And Comments

The Fate of Nebuchadnezzar, verses 17-21. Belshazzar the king had promised Daniel a purple robe, a chain of gold, and the position of third ruler in the kingdom, if he would interpret the handwriting that appeared on the wall. "Let thy gifts be to thyself, and give thy rewards to another," returned Daniel, and then assured the king that he would interpret the writing. But first he reminded Belshazzar of Nebuchadnezzar's fate.

Nebuchadnezzar became like the beasts and dwelt among them; he ate grass like oxen, and lived out under the open sky; this was his life until he recognized the supreme sovereignty of the Most High God. "His illness is well known to science as that form of hypochondriasis [madness] in which a man takes himself for a wolf, or a dog, or some other animal." Probably in the fifth century monks, who were known as the "Boikoi" from feeding on grass, may have been the first to use the term, half maniacs who in time took themselves for oxen." (F. W. Farrar).

Belshazzar's Warning, verses 22-24. "Though thou knowest how great Nebuchadnezzar was humbled, thou hast not humbled thy heart," Daniel then solemnly said.

Daniel charged the king with having drunk wine, and his court, out of the sacred vessels purloined from the temple of Jerusalem. And he charged him also with having praised senseless images called gods, and having neglected the true God who holds in his own power their breath of life and all their destiny. Moffatt's translation of "Then," Daniel concluded, "the part of the hand was sent before"—the fingers of a man's hand, verse 5—and this writing was inscribed.

The Writing and Its Interpretation, verses 25-28. And this is the writing which was inscribed: Mene, mene, tekel, upharin, that is, Numbered, weighed and divisions, and are translated literally in the margin of the Bible. The words are Aramaic, and in the Hebrew Bible the whole story is told in Aramaic, not Hebrew. "The feast clearly took place in the palace; and it is evident that when the king saw the vision he was under the influence of wine."

The interpretation follows in Daniel's words, verses 26-28. That night Belshazzar was slain, and Darius the Mede received the kingdom.

Runs For Fifty Minutes

German Inventors Have Patented New Gramophone Record

The gramophone record that will run on for nearly as hour on end—to be precise, just fifty minutes—without stopping, has been patented by two German inventors, Herr Basse and Professor Vorwerk, after long and arduous experiments by many other technicians working in the same field. Experts, satisfied at last with the results, have nevertheless come to the conclusion that the rendering of music and song is not as perfect as when recorded by ordinary methods. The non-stop record will therefore be principally used in schools and for political propaganda purposes. Speeches will suffer less from interruption at a crucial point than before, and it is thought that in the schools of the future long passages from the classics spoken by men and women whose elocution is good will bring home the beauty of language to literature classes.

Fear Shortage Of Ships For Vimy Pilgrimage

Railways Grant One Cent Per Mile Rate—Applications Pouring In At Rate Of One Hundred Per Week

Canadian Great War Veterans and their next-of-kin are taking no chances on being left behind when the special Pilgrimage Liners leave Montreal for overseas in July next. Mr. Ben Allen, Dominion organizer for the Vimy and Battledore Pilgrimages, who has just returned from England, France and Belgium, announced that reservations to date number 2,000 and expresses fear that thousands of Canadian war veterans and their next-of-kin may be disappointed in failure to obtain passages unless applications are filed immediately.

"We have just returned from meeting the steamship people, stated Mr. Allen, and they have warned us that boats may not be available unless reservations are in early. It will be too late if a last few months rush develops. Unless we can definitely state within the next few months what the number will be, there will be many returned men disappointed."

"Applications are coming in now at the rate of over one hundred per week, but with the authorization given us by the Canadian National Railways and the Canadian Pacific Railway Company to announce a flat rate of one-cent-per-mile to and from Montreal for every pilgrim from his or her home address, we will be swamped with reservations that may fill up our ships."

Employers everywhere are extending the greatest co-operation to their returned men and women employees. Canadian Line Materials Ltd., Scarborough Junction, Toronto, have arranged for all of their ex-service employees to deposit with the company as much as they wish from their regular pay cheques—and the company guarantee to double the amount to the employees' credit on April first of next year. "The plan has gone over big," states W. Atkinson, Assistant Plant superintendent.

Interest in the Vimy Pilgrimage is being shown at every gathering of returned men. With the usual Battalion Re-union Dinners commencing in October—the great Memorial Day parades in November, and Christmas activities, it is anticipated that Canada's Peace Army will be a significant warning to Europe of the sentiment in the Dominion against participation in future wars.

Whether the Remedy You are taking for Headaches, Neuralgia or Rheumatism Pains is SAFE is Your Doctor. Ask Him

Don't Entrust Your Own or Your Family's Well-Being to Unknown Preparations

BEFORE you take any preparation you don't know all about, for the relief of headaches, or the pains of rheumatism, neuralgia or neuritis, ask your doctor what he thinks about it—in comparison with "Aspirin".

We say this because, before the discovery of "Aspirin," most so-called "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as being bad for the stomach; or, often, for the heart. And the discovery of "Aspirin" largely changed medical practice.

Countless thousands of people who have taken "Aspirin" year in and out without ill effect, have proved that the medical findings about its safety were correct.

Remember this: "Aspirin" is rated among the fastest methods for the relief of headaches and all common pains... and safe for the average person to take regularly.

"Aspirin" Tablets are made in Canada. "Aspirin" is the registered trade-mark of the Bayer Company, Limited. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every tablet.

SYNOPSIS

Nancy Nelson is a sub-deb, a gay irresponsible girl of nineteen, with no care beyond the choice of her costume for her coming-out party. Suddenly, in the market crash, her indulgent father loses all he had, and his family is faced with the necessity of a simpler method of living. At this juncture a letter is received from an eccentric relative in Colorado, who offers the girl a home on what seems to be impossible conditions.

After much consideration Cousin Columbine's offer is accepted. Nancy and Jack arrive at Pine Ridge. Nancy retires out one afternoon to climb to the top of a hill so as to obtain a view of the surrounding landscape and misses the path Aurora Tubbs had told her to follow. A truck comes along the road, driven by Matthew Adams, and she asks him which way to go. They ascend the hill, look around, and then go on to Cousin Columbine's. There Mark Adam tells Nancy that his brother Luke has broken his leg, and that Jack Nelson has been hired to help out while Luke's leg gets better. With Jack away, Nancy finds that she is lonesome, and having no books to read, the idea of starting a public library at Pine Ridge seems a good one, and Nancy writes home to get her parents to send all the books they could spare and all they could induce others to let them have.

Nancy's parents and friends gave their liberal support to her request for books, and a sizeable box arrived in due course. Father Adam painted a sign for the library, and the Adam boys worked on the shelves for the books and decorations to make the room look presentable.

Jack Nelson, Matthew Adams, and Nancy go to the prairie home of Matthew's uncle for the ride, and after Nancy and Jack leave for home, they are caught in a blizzard. Blinded by the swirling snow they collide with a bus full of school children, which was stalled across the road with its back wheels resting in a snow-filled gully. Their car being wrecked, Jack and Nancy stay with the children and do all they can to help. The next morning Jack sets out for help in the blizzard. He succeeds in finding help, and the party of children and Nancy are rescued. As a result of the exposure Nancy's feet are badly frozen and Jack is seriously ill with pneumonia, but both of them recover.

Now Go On With The Story

CHAPTER XXI.

The days that followed etched new lines in Columbine Nelson's face, for only a few hours after her second telegram to Massachusetts Jack took an unexpected turn for the worse.

"Shall I send for his people?" she questioned, when after a time that seemed endless a grave-eyed doctor emerged from the boy's room. "I should wait," he answered. "If Jack were my own son, Miss Nelson, and I so far away, I should say the same. You see, if the end comes, it will be soon; and since his parents could not reach here in time to see him, isn't it kinder, and wiser too, not to harrow them with the knowledge of how dark the prospects look just now! If he lives through the night the boy will probably recover. He's putting up a magnificent fight, and every nurse and doctor in the place is fighting with him—in spirit, anyway. I don't say that his condition isn't desperate; but somehow I've the conviction that he'll make the grade."

Miss Columbine did not leave the hospital that night; nor did she close her eyes till early morning when a nurse appeared to say that Jack seemed to have turned the corner and his physician felt the worst was over. Not until then did the old lady cry a little, and the doctor ordered a powder that brought sleep. It was almost noon when she heard a rap upon her door, and Matthew Adam entered the room.

"Did I wake you, Miss Columbine?"

"No; I was only snoozing. How's everything now, Matt?"

"The young man sat down on the bed and grimed at her. "Jack's sleeping—naturally. Jack isn't suffering this morning; and it looks as if the kids were coming through without a single amputation. That Osgood boy's been telling me what happened. I tell you, Miss Columbine, I take off my hat to Jack and Nancy—and to some of those brave youngsters too."

"I guess the papers didn't exaggerate this time," she observed.

"You're right. But just the same, I miss my guess if it's the same shock to those young relatives of yours when they read the story! How do you suppose it feels, Miss Columbine, to have the country regard you as heroes?"

"Well, it won't hurt either of 'em," responded the old lady. "They've got the Nelson common sense. It's who's likely to be puffed up, Matthew. Think of the courage it must have taken for a boy to start out in the teeth of such a storm, especially when the driver had disappeared. And Nancy! A girl brought up as she's been—everything set and so far—to do what she did—Well, all I can say is that my pioneer mother would have been proud of her!"

Matt noted with pleasure that Miss Columbine spoke with her accustomed briskness.

"You must go home to-day, Matthew," she said later. "It's been a comfort knowing you were here; but your father needs you, and I'll not be babied any longer."

The young man smiled.

"I've had orders per telephone, to stay on duty a day longer. Mark's on his way in from Prairie Ranch right now. Mark's coming down in the truck to take him home and, incidentally, pick out a new car! That's a good thing came out of this blizzard, Miss Columbine, we're practically forced to buy a decent automobile. The old one's done for; and even Dad can't take up an excuse to put us off. The Adam clan is thrilled at the prospect. We're to have a family reunion at the Ford agency this afternoon."

Miss Columbine laughed and said: "Your mother deserves a modern car if anybody does. Is Mark all right again?"

"He'd come whether he was or not. They've had to take turns sitting on him to prevent his getting out of bed! All that kept Mark from joining that rescue party, Miss Columbine, was the fact that Aunt Em hid his clothes. He and looked the way where Uncle Tom keeps him. I must run now and get a bite before I meet the family."

After this things went more smoothly, and the messages to Edgewood contained only the best of news.

Thus there came a day some two weeks later when Nancy found herself in the big black walnut bed again, with General Grant looking down disapprovingly, she thought, on her Chinese coat; and Mark Adam looking quite the opposite, as he stood in the doorway.

"Perusing your fan mail?" he questioned soberly.

Nancy laughed. Her bed was strewn with newspapers and letters, not to mention various telegrams, to her admirers. She laid down a cable from Aunt Judy and the Spear twins as she said:

"Come on in and be seated. No, not on the bed, Mark! My feet don't seem to belong to me yet, and I've got the feeling that if anybody slips on 'em they'll break off! Where's Matt? I want him to read some of these foolish letters. Can—can you beat that?"

She tossed him a miasme; but before Mark had time to look at it, Aurora Tubbs puffed up the stairs.

"What'll you have for dinner, Nancy? There's a steak, and creamed potatoes, and some hot-house tomatoes that come by express this mornin' from a sincere admirer in Fort Collins, whoever he is. Would you like apple pie, or a good baked custard? Miss Columbine says to order anything you want. My stars! Your bed's a perfect sight. I hope this praise you're gettin' won't turn your head."

Nancy smiled and replied: "I'll choose apple pie, Aurora. And we've open a can of your wonderful string beans?"

"Sure we could. Why don't you ask right out to stay to dinner, Mark Adam? You might as well as sit there lookin' hungry!"

Mark shook his head, endeavoring to appear grieving.

"You wrong me, Aurora. I'm headed for Colorado Springs soon as my elder brother arrives from home in the new car. We're to swap vehicles; and I dare say Matt would appreciate that grudging invitation, though if you ask me, he's already enjoyed more than his share of our nation's heroine."

"I think he's gettin' awful sweet on her," observed the woman, so soberly that Nancy suppressed a smile.

"So'm I," said Mark, and grinned at Nancy.

Aurora moved forward, her brow furrowed with worry.

"I hope to goodness it won't make no trouble in the family, Mark Adam. 'Twould break your mother's heart if anything was to come between you boys. What are you laughin' about now, Nancy Nelson? It's no laughin' matter for two brothers to get sweet on the same girl. There was the Elton brothers up to Cripple Creek. They both fell in love with Sarah Peters and—yes, Miss Columbine!"

"As a warning sound from below," "I know you told me not to talk Nancy to death. I'm comin' now."

"And she leaves us," Mark said tragically as Aurora fled. "In complete ignorance as to the fate of those unfortunate Eltons! I'll look in on Jack this afternoon, Nancy. What are you takin' him some of this accumulation?"

"I do if you want't forget to bring them back. I'm saving every one of these absurdities to show my grandchildren. Jack's seen the papers, I suppose."

Mark nodded. "He says he feels like Lindbergh! The last of those kids goes home today, Nancy. It's wonderful how well they all came through."

"Isn't it? I was so awfully afraid for some of them. It makes me shudder just to remember how they suffered. Is that Matt honking so cheerily below the window? Hand me that compact on the bureau, Mark. I expect I look a sight!"

The young man threw her a reproachful glance as he obeyed.

"I note the fact that you used no powder or lipstick on my account, Miss Adam. Say! Aunt Em sent in a big donation for the library. I left the books with Mary Taylor, but she suggested you might like to look 'em over here."

"I would. I can hardly wait to get back to the library. Juanita says—" "All ready, feller," called Matthew from below.

Mark went to the stairway and looked down.

"Why don't you join us, brother? Nancy's been beautifying herself just for your benefit! She looks like the Queen of Sheba or Greta Garbo, or some one."

Matthew obeyed, saying as he paused on the threshold: "I was only thinking that two callers might upset the invalid. How you feeling Nancy?"

"Great! And don't call me an invalid. There's nothing the matter except that my feet feel sort of—well, sort of brittle!"

"Mark Adam," called Miss Columbine, "you come right down. You've been there half an hour. It's Matt's turn now."

"Coming," called Mark; and then to Nancy: "I'll drop in later and let you know if your brother's hat still fits his head, my dear. So long."

As Mark departed, Matt drew a chair nearer the bed.

"You appear to be submerged in letters, telegrams and the daily press," he told her, smiling. "How does it make you feel, Nancy?"

Her eyes lighted with something near amusement.

"It may sound ungrateful, but most of this business makes me want to laugh. It's awfully nice for every one to say such things about us; but I know, and you know too, Matt, that anybody else would have done exactly what Jack and I did. It just happened to be us—that's all."

"I'm not so sure," said Matthew gravely. "I think you're wonderful, Nancy."

A Lightning Shave

Italian Claims Flash Deprived Him Of Moustache And Beard

It is certain that Luciano Code-luppi had a beard and moustache, and it is just as certain that after a thunderstorm he was clean shaven. Here is his story:

Code-luppi, who lives in the village of Prato di San Pancrazio, Italy, was leaning out of the window watching the lightning flicker across the fields when a sudden flash seemed to hit the house, and threw him back into the room. When he put his hand to his face he found that his moustache and beard had disappeared.

Otherwise he was uninjured.

Bicycle With Wings

Short Flight Has Been Achieved By German Inventor

From Germany come the news of the first flight ever achieved by man—power alone. Since time immemorial men have been trying to conquer the air in various contraptions propelled by human muscles and the spectators at Frankford-on-Main saw a sort of winged bicycle actually leave the ground in a flight of several hundred yards.

So what? Does this presage a time when we shall leap on our aerial bicycles and sail through space? The inventor says so, but we are inclined to doubt him. Terrestrial bicycles, if you recall, became somewhat less popular with the development of the gasoline engine. It would be great to go pedalling through the air, but when one can sit comfortably at the controls and let an engine do the work—well, somehow aerial bicycling seems less attractive. If it came to a choice between flying flippers and flying bicycles, we have a pretty good hunch which the public would choose. —Detroit Saturday Night.

Tribute To Women

Share Largely In Contributions To Our Modern Civilization

Women's contribution to civilization has been a large one. No less an authority than Mary R. Board, the noted historian, claims that women launched civilization. She points out that primitive woman was the cook and the guardian of the hearth, that women were the weavers, millers, hatters, that they evolved the processes of spinning, weaving, dyeing, that according to one authority they even invented the suction pump and that they are credited equally with men with discovering the origin of fire.—Country Life in B.C.

All Have Same Idea

Seven Sons In One Family Serve On Police Force

A family of seven sons, and all in the police force, is the record set by Mr. and Mrs. M. Duncan, of Post-say, Scotland. Duncan senior, also served as a policeman for a number of years, but left the force, and took up farming. After leaving school in turn the seven sons tried to farm. Six of them are six feet and over in height, while the youngest, who is only 18, is five feet 11 inches.

Space is not exactly crowded, considering an astronomer's statement that space unoccupied by stars is 100 million million million times as great as that the stars themselves occupy.

Little Hopes For This Week

A bruised reed shall He not break. Isaiah 42:3.

All my life I still have found And I'll forget it never; Every sorrow bath its bound, No cross endures forever. All things else but have their day, God's love only lasts for aye.

We have never had more than we can bear. The present hour we are always able to endure. As our day so is our strength. If the trials of many years were gathered into one they would overwhelm us, therefore in pity for our little strength He sends first one and then another, and then removes both before He lays on a third heavier perhaps than either, but it is so wisely measured to our strength that the bruised reed is never broken. We do not know enough at our trials in this successive and continuous wave. Each one is sent to us to teach us something, and altogether they have a lesson which is beyond the power of any to teach alone.

New Air Weapon

Huge Bombers Submitted To United States Army For Approval

A new Vulture observation bomber, described by experienced aviation men as "the most powerful air weapon ever devised," has completed secret factory tests and will be submitted to the United States army for approval.

Perhaps the most striking development of the 850-horsepower bomber, which can fly at 250 miles an hour fully loaded, is its canopy of shatter-proof glass, which permits unobscured vision and preserves low air resistance.

The bomber is equipped with one traversable and four fixed machine guns. Alternate armament can be one 1,100-pound bomb, or 24 bombs of 100 pounds each.

The big ship also can carry pressure tanks for poison gas to be discharged over trenches at 250 miles an hour.

Pilgrims Visit Battlefields

A quarter of a million pilgrims visit the Great War battlefields of France every year, and of these six per cent. are German, twice as many as British. No fewer than 14,700 Germans visited Verdun alone during 1934.

As late as 1900, English rustics caught rain water falling on Ascension Day. The water was bottled and used in each bread leavening to insure "light" bread. 2121
